Works fine. Go to your reem menu and collect your stuff. Other thubs down can shove them some place else.. This is a great take on the scrolling shooter. too bad its not that long. to expand its replay the standards are added: time attack, survival, score attack, etc. I would have reviewed this earlier but till this week the game contained 3rd party DRM that apparently stopped it from working. If you are a fan of Gradius this is a fun departure. If you always thought gradius was too hard. this isnt that hard. its fun .

6.5/10. I want to like this game, but it just doesnt make sense. You need to take constant loans to be able to have any kind of decent gladiator. You can barely afford equipment and all improvements cost an absolute fortune. You need to win 24/7 with max bets to make any kind of money. Somehow, all your opponents have 25 gladiators while you cant afford more than 3. But still, what takes the cake is when your level 15 A+ fighter with the best equipment gets one shot and dies by some random level 1 dude. Sure, it can happen, but somehow all of my gladiators have now died that way. There is just no sense of progression, and it seems the entire game just has a timer where you constantly need to win, because if you dont, suddenly all your opponents have massive level advantages and you can now not win a single fight. Who knows, maybe I just suck.

Also, tons of small bugs that are not gamebreaking, but certainly do not help.. Hey, you have made a cool lil game. The music was fun, it created a good vibe. Controlls took a while to figure out, with the ladders and crawling, (played with keyboard). Game took trial and error to figure out, seemed abit unfair at some times, but in general i liked it. Must have died like 40 times in the end bit before figuring it out. :) Good job. Keep it up. :). This sould be the standard for RTS games. this game is a joke for a company that is asking for £40 for a game you would atleast feel the game has some implicaitons to make it fun well guess what! this game is awful. A joke of a comapny taking money from fans for this game i wouldnt even pay £10 for how bad this is,, you can legit stand still and the game will hit the ball and for the shots, it doesnt matter what you press you will always chop the ball. A Joke the company shouldnt even exist on how poor this game is and how they are stealing your money for buying this game, update the game or dont make games you joke of a company legit shouldnt even be creating games!. Delightful little game, and a good mental challenge.. i dont like it. This game legit creates 50 of you lagging the game out to where one swing takes 30 seconds to load in. A very good game, it's a lot of fun to play. It's perfect for speedrunning. Despite it's a parkour game, it is VERY complex when you want to do the fastest time. Go try it !

Dawn of Discovery aka Anno 1404 is a fantastic, detail-driven city/economy simulator with a bit of RTS. DoD is relaxing, gorgeous, and a great example of sandbox citybuilding with a challenge. You're encouraged to make multiple cities/islands and trade route them together, micromanage and setup production lines and creating a very pretty visual balance between the environment and buildings, which all look incredible and detailed. For what it is, and with no major flaws in my play experience so far, I'd say DoD is pretty dang good.

Sadly it's not on sale on Steam at the moment cause, to the best of my knowledge anyway, Ubisoft's last patch for the game never made it to Steam, so Steam pulled it, saying it's an incomplete game. Unfortunately the last patch means Steam versions are incompatible saves with non-steam, so you can't really play much with non-steam owners of the game. Hopefully it goes up for sale again soon... However, Anno 2070 is almost identical and highly recommended.

EDIT: DoD is back on sale! I very much recommend it still, although there does still seem to be the issue of occasional crashes or multiplayer disconnects, if anyone has an idea why, I'd be happy to hear it. It's every once in a while, but enough to be a little distracting. Although it auto-saves pretty damn often so you usually don't lose much progress. Still worth it, incredibly fun.. Creativity without screwing up! This is a unique take on a music game that lets you create music but guarantees that it harmonizes. There's a huge variety of instruments and musical genres, making it a lot of fun to mix and match, trying out different combinations. It's fun to play and I really enjoyed the environments and VR elements, like the instrument selections and floating notes.. Here we go, third part of the Arkania tales. Your party of heroes arrived in a big city, Riva, from the first steps you will be pulled in the great adventure, the darkest mystery hides here and now only you can drop light upon it. No more miles of traveling, surviving in dry deserts or cold mountains, it is only city and surroundings, but don't think that crossing a street is easier than crossing a raging stream. If your heroes ready for new adventure Riva is open for you.

A bit late, but I recommend to edit - dosboxrealms3.conf - this file can be found in the game directory, few lines have to be changed: scaler=advname2x ; cycles=18000 . scaler makes picture a bit softer and 18000 cycles looks like the optimal speed.. polished. satisfying to hit puppet mice. Roomscale has you moving around a bit. Different type of mice to catch and leaderboards. Good fitness game too.. Very well made, classic style game. Highly recommended!. Eh you're better off playing one of the classics like Streets of Rage or Final Fight. The game's inputs are crazy imprecise, and the bindings for attack keys don't really have any foresight and trip over each other leading to failed hits / inputs. I'd leave this one on the shelf, it's just not polished enough.. cool game! wish there were gamemodes!. I love the concept and believe it has some real potential. It's in the early stages and am excited for the end result. I'm going to give it a thumbs up. With the proper tweaking it will be an enjoyable experience indeed! Something I would like to touch on is the camera control. If you could use the same camera control mechanics as Train Fever that would be just splendid!!
